**New Crime Information Tool Unveiled****

The Vallejo Police Department, with the support of Vallejo's Fighting Back Partnership, has unveiled a new tool to provide timely crime information to the public.

The Police Department receives hundreds of requests for information about criminal activity in neighborhoods, but due to reductions in staff and the elimination of our Crime Analyst position, has had no means to readily compile or provide these facts.

Enter CrimeReports.com. The Police Department supplies daily data from our Computer Aided Dispatch and Records Management systems which is electronically sent to a publicly accessible website. Information that used to take weeks to obtain is available within 24-hours.

Grant funding was used to secure access to the technology. Residents and other interested parties can review the information using the Crime Analysis link from our website, www.vallejopd.com or by going directly to www.crimereports.com.

This venture provides people with a tool to raise awareness of crime trends and empowers them to proactively protect their homes and neighborhoods. Citizens can also sign up on the website to receive crime alert e-mails and use the options provided to look for specific or general crime events. Information can be accessed by address, crime type or by simply zooming into an area of interest on the map.

The Police Department also uses the information for reviewing activity and plotting crime trends.
