VALLEJO CITY COUNCIL PASSES MODIFIED TRANSIT FARE INCREASES

VALLEJO – The City Council on Tuesday evening passed a series of transit fare increases that range from 15 to 20 percent, adding 25 cents to the cost of a one-way trip on a local bus and $1.50 to the cost of a one-way ferry ride.

The projected increase in revenues from the fare hike will reduce the projected deficit in the transportation fund from $3.3 million to $1.9 million.

City staff had initially proposed fare hikes between 30 and 60 percent in some cases, with the cost of a one-way local bus ride costing $2 and a monthly ferry pass increasing to $280. Those increases would have effectively eliminated the projected deficit for this fiscal year, but ferry and bus riders felt the increases were too much, too soon, and as a result a modified version of a fare increase was presented to the council for its consideration.

After much discussion the council approved a lower fare structure, with the expectation that staff would study the impact of other cost-cutting measures and the revenues generated by the increase, and return to council at the beginning of 2007 with an update on the condition of the transportation fund, as well as any new fare increases.

The charts below outline the new fare increases that will be implemented September 1, 2006.
